Bainbridge Island LYNWOOD CENTER

Take a Trip Down South.

The whole of Bainbridge Island is only 10 miles long, so it's not very far to this vibrant community and neighborhood center on the southern shore.

There's a lot of history here - Lynwood Center was once the location of a destination spa and resort and several commercial greenhouses. It was a popular picnic destination for the residents in the early years of the twentieth century, as Fort Ward Park is for current generations.

The complex with the Historic Lynwood Theatre (the island's first "talking pictures" movie house) and the original Manor House has been here since the 1930s.

The recently-developed Pleasant Beach Village across the street has added more opportunities for food, shopping, lodging, entertainment and new residential housing opportunities.

Need a lift? Taxi & Tours (206-842-7660), City Cab (360-550-4062) or Kitsap Transit's B.I. Ride bus (1-844-424-7433) can get you there and back.
